THEATRE

WHATEVER YOU SAY

A funny and an honest play about a couple, X and Y, who one day discover that they have run out of conversation. What do two people who have nothing left to say, say to each other? As X and Y laugh and bicker and try to rediscover the meaning in their meaningless existence, Z enter. Z is the omni present 'thought-collector', who collects thoughts nobody wants. As Z develops burnout and starts setting thoughts free, what is said and what is left unsaid is no longer clear.

When: October 19 and 20,
Where: Jagriti Theatre, Whitefield
